Rooftop solar and containers in China

Overview

Can rooftop solar be deployed in China?

This study moves beyond technical estimates to assess the deployable rooftop solar potential across 367 Chinese cities, factoring in real-world constraints. The findings offer actionable insights to guide strategic deployment and support China's ambitious solar energy goals.

Why is China doubling its rooftop solar capacity?

The country's rapid development of rooftop solar capacity is also driven by government incentives. Newly added annual installed capacity for solar stations has been around 30 GW on average over the past few years, China New Energy Investment and Financing Alliance said.

Will rooftop solar PV installations in China surge in the next 3 years?

Rooftop solar PV installations in China may surge in the next three years as the country goes through a green energy transition and plans to make renewable energy a key cornerstone in the country's path to a greener economy, a recent research report said.

Can developers buy solar panels in China?

In September, China's National Energy Bureau announced a new initiative for local governments to partner with solar developers to build rooftop arrays. Under the scheme, building owners can purchase solar panels and sell the power they generate to developers, or developers can lease rooftop space to install solar panels they own.

Will China's rooftop solar market grow in 2021?

Rooftop installations in China increased to 27.3 gigawatts in 2021 from 19.4 GW in 2017, and the growth should keep rising for the rooftop solar market, a Rystad Energy analysis piece said. Before 2017, rooftop solar was almost non-existent, with only 4 GW of installed capacity in 2016.

How many solar panels did China install in the first quarter?

A new analysis has revealed that China installed an astonishing 36 gigawatts of rooftop solar PV in the first quarter of 2025 – a record – as the country raced to meet new policy deadlines.
